

02-ED-033

RECEIVED
7/02/03

Via E-mail

Date sent: Wed, 02 Jul 2003 18:44:04 -0400
From: "Raymond, Bruce H." <RAYMOND@halloran-sage.com>
Subject: Electronic Discovery Reform
To: "'marcusr@uchastings.edu'" <marcusr@uchastings.edu>

Dear Professor Marcus,

I am a lawyer who defends civil cases involving products liability, toxic tort and business claims. I strongly favor reforms to introduce some common sense approaches to limit the burden and expense of this often abused area of discovery. I, and my clients deserve clearer guidance on how to ethically comply with legitimate discovery without undue burden and expense. I wish I could take more time to provide more detailed comments, but am involved in a trial at present.

Thank you for your consideration.

Bruce Raymond

RESPONSES TO:

Bruce H. Raymond, Esq.
Halloran & Sage LLP
One Goodwin Square
Hartford, CT 06103-4303
Telephone: 860-297-4621
Fax: 860-548-0006
mailto:raymond@halloran-sage.com <mailto:raymond@halloran-sage.com> www.halloran-sage.com <www.halloran-sage.com>